1. Events with significant impact on the Fund's performance

Factors that influenced the company's activity and results in the third quarter of the year:

- The oil price closed the third quarter at $ 73.49/barrel down slightly from $ 74.26/barrel (at the end of June 2018), driven by rises/falls in US crude inventories and market expectations on their variations, the US decision to impose sanctions on Iran for the banking and energy sector starting with November (with the purpose of reducing the country's oil purchases);
- At the August meeting, the Bank of England decided to increase the Bank Rate to 0.75%, from 0.50%, on the background of a forecasted economic growth of around 1.75% per year, and on the inflation rate that exceeded the 2% target in June (reaching 2.4%, pushed by external cost pressures resulting from the effects of sterling's past depreciation and higher energy prices);
- At the September meeting, the US Federal Reserve decided the third hike this year of the monetary policy interest rate, to between 2.00% and 2.25%, decision due to the labor market that has continued to strengthen and the economic activity which has been rising at a strong rate;
- The US has imposed import tariffs for Chinese goods worth $34 billion (in July) and $200 billion (in September), with China retaliating with tariffs for $34 billion of US imported goods (in July) and $60 billion (in September).

The financial statements as of 09/30/2018 have been prepared in accordance with the Financial Supervisory Authority (ASF) Norm 39/2015 for the approval of the Accounting Regulations pursuant to the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), applicable to entities authorized, regulated and supervised by the ASF in the Sector of Financial and Investment Instruments. TOTAL EQUITY AND LIABILITIES	76,317,107	100.0%	67,542,433	100.0%	13.0%

In the first nine months of the year, the Fund maintained its exposure to oil and gas companies` shares, as the oil price may have an upward trend due to the following factors: the increase in world oil demand, the sanctions imposed by the US on Iran, with a potential to reduce the oil supply by around 1 mb/d, the decrease in sector`s investments (which are at about 60% of the investments made before the fall in oil prices) and the increase in shale oil production can only partly offset these factors. Estimated oil price as a function of oil demand and supply is 81$ per barrel, representing an 10% upside against the end-September price.

Securities at fair value through profit or loss (held for trading) increased by 30.4% at the end of the third quarter, to RON 37.9 million, from RON 29.1 million lei (end of 2017), mainly due to the increase in the prices of the shares held in portfolio, and less due to acquisitions of new shares. Receivables from securities operations are dividends that were yet to be received at the end of September. Equity increased by 13.0% over the nine months, following the incorporation of the net result of RON 8.39 million.
